The European Dental Research and Biomaterials Journal (EDRBJ), a specialized spin-off of European Journal of Dentistry (EJD), is a peer-reviewed, international, scientific journal published in accordance with independent, unbiased, and double-blinded peer-review principles. The journal publishes Open Access and permits authors to self-archive the final accepted version of the articles on any OAI-compliant institutional/subject-based repository. The Editorial Board of EDRBJ consists of eminent investigators in dentistry from across the globe and presents an ideal international composition. The journal encourages its authors to submit original investigations, reviews, and brief reports addressing various divisions of dentistry including biomaterials, oral pathology, prosthodontics, endodontics, orthodontics etc. Authors are requested to submit their articles at www.manuscriptmanager.net/edrbj.

EDRBJ encourages submissions from all authors throughout the world. Manuscripts are judged by experts solely based on their contribution of original data and ideas and their presentation. All manuscripts must comply with the Author Instructions. The following articles will be considered for publication: Original Articles, Brief Reports, Reviews, Editorials, and Letters to the Editor. Submitted manuscripts must not have been published, accepted for publication or be under consideration elsewhere. Investigation on human subjects should conform to the guidelines noted in the World Health Organization Chronicle 1976; 30: 360-362. All articles will be critically reviewed by the Editor and invited referees within 2 months. EDRBJ is Open Access and FREE of article publication charges (APCs).

Abstracting and indexing: EBSCO, ProQuest

EDRBJ requires that authors follow the ICMJE (International Committee of Medical Journal Editors) recommendations for the Conduct, Reporting, Editing, and Publication of Scholarly work in Medical Journals. More information can be found here:
